October 15, 2008

In 2006 our company diversified into the newly formed Biodiesel industry. As we sought contractors to help us build our Biodiesel refinery we were most impressed at the products and services AP Innovations, Inc offered, and the character of the company. They helped us throughout the entire construction process, and the engineering, designs, and management they provided helped us construct our 3 million gallon a year facility. AP Innovations performed to the level promised, and were very easy to work with.

In today's business society, it is hard to find those who practice in an ethical business manner and perform as they promise. Both Mike Shook and Steve Danforth are men of their word, and are committed to getting the job done. We look forward to the opportunity of working with AP Innovations on our next engineering projects.

Sincerely,

Jeremy Kartchner
